

burke healey house
coledale

This very recently completed house rests under the great escarpment just north of Wollongong in Coledale. With stringent geotechnical and bush fire requirements the house creates a warm and safe family enclave amongst the rain forest. A spectacular rising roof form links the house to the trees and escarpment above.